RE: Mattie and David Mintz v. South Carolina Electric & Gas Company
Answer and Motion to Dismiss of South Carolina Electric & Gas
Company, Docket No. 2012-80-E

Dear Mr. Minges:

On or about February 14, 2012, Mattie and David Mintz (the "Mintzes") commenced the instant action by filing a complaint with the Public Service Commission of South Carolina ("Commission"). By way of this letter, South Carolina Electric & Gas Company ("SCE&G") hereby responds to the complaint and respectfully requests that the Commission dismiss the Mintzes' complaint on the grounds that they have failed to state a claim upon which relief can be granted. While the Commission is considering SCE&G's request, the Company also requests that the Commission toll the deadline for filing direct testimony in the above-referenced docket.

On January 27, 2012, SCE&G sent the Mintzes a bill for electric service provided to their residence at 162 Carribell Road, in Eutawville, South Carolina, from December 22, 2011 to January 25, 2012 (the "January 2012 Bill"). That bill, which totaled $344.78, included charges for electric service totaling $331.90. The Mintzes' January 2012 Bill for electric service is attached hereto as Exhibit A with confidential customer account information redacted. In their complaint, the Mintzes complain that the January 2012 Bill "is wrong and not right because the weather was to[o] warm for this kind of bill" and requests that SCE&G "stop raising [the] light bill when it [is] not that price" and that SCE&G "check the meter box right and put what [is shown] on [the] box."

Based on its reading of the Mintzes' complaint, SCE&G understands the Mintzes to complain about SCE&G's electric weather normalization adjustment ("eWNA").

Under the eWNA, SCE&G calculates a rate adjustment for each eWNA customer group under rate schedules 1, 6, 8, and 9 for each revenue month and meter reading cycle. After the meters are read for a particular cycle, the Company accumulates the weather for that cycle and calculates the deviation of the weather from normal. Based on this data, a factor is determined to adjust the impact of above or below average weather on the margin component of the customer's bill. In short, the eWNA is designed to adjust the rate that customers are charged for electricity consumed to account for abnormal weather; in no circumstance is a customer charged for electricity that was not consumed.<sup>1</sup>

The eWNA was approved by the Commission in Order No. 2010-471. Accordingly, the Mintzes' complaint fails to allege that SCE&G violated any applicable statute, rule, regulation, or order administered or issued by the Commission.

Moreover, to confirm that the Mintzes' meter was functioning properly and that the electricity consumption on their January 2012 Bill reflected actual usage, SCE&G conducted an in-field electric meter test of the Mintzes' meter on February 24, 2012. Consistent with SCE&G's standard practice, two separate tests were conducted on the Mintzes' meter. The tests were conducted in accordance with applicable Commission regulations, and the customer was at home for both tests. A copy of the results from the in-field electric meter tests for the Mintzes' meter is attached hereto as Exhibit B with confidential customer account information redacted. These results demonstrate that the Mintzes' meter was within calibration and functioning properly.

Based upon the foregoing, SCE&G respectfully requests that the Mintzes' complaint be dismissed. Moreover, SCE&G requests that while the Commission is considering the Company's request, the Commission toll the deadline for filing direct testimony in this docket.

Any statement or allegation not specifically admitted herein is denied. By copy of this letter, we are serving this answer and motion to dismiss and the affidavit of Marsha H. Klatt upon the Mintzes as well as counsel for the ORS and enclose a certificate of service to that effect.

Moreover, by copy of this letter, we are also informing the Mintzes that, pursuant to Commission Regulation 103-829, their response to this motion is due within ten (10) days after service of the motion. According to our calculations, the Mintzes' response is due on or before March 12, 2012.

<sup>1</sup> The eWNA resulted in an upward adjustment of $37.46 on the Mintzes' January 2012 Bill. However, as of January 27, 2012, and including the upward adjustment on the January 2012 Bill, the Mintzes have received total net downward adjustments to their electric bills of $114.61 since the inception of the eWNA in August 2010.

Explanation of High Bill Test

In order to determine the accuracy of a meter, the meter is tested at two test points, one representing normal (full) load conditions and another representing light load conditions. The result of the normal load condition test is noted as Full Load % Registration above. The result of the light load condition test is noted as Light Load % Registration. The overall accuracy of the meter is indicated by Weighted Average % Registration.

The Weighted Average % Registration is the value that is used to determine if billing adjustments are necessary and warranted. S.C. Public Service Commission regulation 103-340 requires adjustment of customer's bill for errors in percent registration greater or less than 2%. Any Weighted Average % Registration between 98.01 and 101.99 is considered within calibration and no bill adjustments will be made.

This also certifies that the above listed meter was tested in-field by an SCE&G Energy Services Representative. All equipment used in this test has been calibrated with instruments whose accuracy can be traced to the National Institute of Standards and Testing (NIST). The limits of accuracy for watt-hour meters are governed by the South Carolina Public Service Commission.

Should you have any further questions, please call the Energy Information Services Department line at 1.866.660.3704.
